Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 17 November 2003.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a device adapted to provide system security, classified in class 463, subclass 29.
- II. Claims 15-22, drawn to data transmission on a network, classified in class 700, subclass 2.
- III. Claims 23-26, drawn to a device used as accessory for playing game, classified in class 273, subclass 148R.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Invention I and III are devices (set A) and Invention II is a process (set B). Each set of groups is related as subcombinations disclosed within the specification as usable together in a single combination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the claimed process does not require the particulars of the claimed devices.

Groups I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown the (1) combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombinations as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombinations have utility by themselves or in other combination (MPEP 806.05(c)). The combination as claimed does not require the subcombination as claimed because Group I does not need the method process of Group II as claimed to carry out its invention. Group II has separate utility such as transmitting data to any types of systems.

Groups I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown the (1) combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombinations as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombinations have utility by themselves or in other combination (MPEP 806.05(c)). The combination as claimed does not require the subcombination as claimed because Group I does not need the player tracking device as claimed to carry out its invention. Group III has separate utility such as providing security to a plurality of types of gaming systems.

Groups II and III are related as combinations and subcombinations. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown the (1) combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombinations as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombinations have utility by themselves or in other combinations (MPEP 806.5 ©). The combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombinations as claimed because Group III recites accessory means adapted to be used with electronic data while Group II is a process directed to data transmission.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classifications, because of their recognized divergent subject matter and separate search requirements, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, and/or III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

The Applicants are advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention (Group I, II and III) to be examined even though the requirement be traversed, see 37 CFR 1.143.

Applicants are reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48 (b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48 (b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17 (i).
